RAIN AND WIND STORM.

Sweeps the City and Different Portions of the County.

TREES BLOWN DOWN.

Telephone Connection Broken and Standing Wheat Injured.

An electric rain and wind storm struck the city Sunday afternoon at 5:30. Though attended with slight damage, the fall in temperature was a great relief from the intense heat that had prevailed during the day. Sunday was a record breaker for the year, the mercury having climbed the tube to the one hundred mark. Owing to the high temperature the attendance at the churches was small and the regular night services were declared off at most churches when the announcements were read from the pulpits in the morning.

Shade and fruit trees were blown down in different parts of the city, while standing wheat in many sections of the county was blown down, and that which had already been cut and shocked was literally scattered to the four winds. The storm was not general throughout the county, the southern portion having neither rain or wind. Like the rain of the previous Sunday, there was not enough to lay the dust just beyond the city limits.

The Pembroke section had no rain and very little wind. West of town about five miles out the rainfall was very heavy, flooding low lands and swelling streams beyond fording and carrying away some fencing.

The "trouble department" of the Cumberland Telephone Co. had as much as it could attend to all day yesterday. Broken connections were constantly reported and reconnected as rapidly as possible. Manager Russell stated that his lines along the Clarksville, Lafayette, Julien and Gracey roads suffered considerably by the lines being broken by falling limbs. He promptly put a force at work on those roads and expected to have all damages repaired by Monday night.

The Home Telephone Co. also had its share of damage to wires, but it expected to have everything in working order by noon yesterday.

The Electric Light Co. reports its damage hardly worth mentioning, though a few transformers were burned out and lines broken at different points.

Mrs. Lou V. Adams, whose farm is on the Palmyra road, about three miles from the city, had a valuable Jersey cow killed by lightning.

Mr. St. Clair Leavell, who is running a dairy, was in a surrey with his wife out where his cows are pastured, when a large tree was blown down, falling within a few feet of him.

At the boarding house of Mrs. M. Long, on West Seventh street, the top of a chimney was blown down even with the roof. Mrs. Stonewall Morris lost a canary bird by the wind blowing the bottom out of its cage. Monday morning the bird was heard about the house, but was caught by a cat. Mrs. Morris had refused $25 for her pet.

Several awnings were blown down, the Planters Hardware Co. suffering most, as they have two store rooms. The large awning in front of the John Moayon store was also torn away by the wind.

W. H. Cummings & Son sustained a slight loss by having the fence at one of their warehouses leveled to the ground.

Weather Observer W. F. Randle says that an inch of rain fell during the storm, which lasted fifty minutes. Saturday the government thermometer registered 95 degrees.

Miss Nickie Hines, of Russellville, is visiting Miss Lillian Gary.

GRAND JURY RECONVENES.

Adjourned a Week for Harvest Season.

MISS BRASHER WINS.

W. H. Taylor Case Proved to be a Hard Fought Contest.

The grand jury, after an adjournment of a week, reconvened yesterday, and will probably be in session all this week. Very few bills have yet been returned in open court, but a good sized batch is expected at any time.

In the case of John L. Brasher, guardian for his daughter, Annie May Brasher, against the Tennessee Central railroad company for damages, for being put off at the wrong station, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $300. This is the second trial of the case, the first verdict having been for $500, which was set aside on account of being excessive. Miss Brasher had paid her fare to Chester, on said road, it being near where she was teaching school in April, 1904, but the conductor got confused about the stations and insisted that she should get off at Masonville, about three miles North of Chester, and the young lady had to walk and carry a heavy valise about two miles, resulting in physical injury as well as humiliation. The plaintiff was represented by Judge Bush and Mr. L. Y. Younts.

The case of the commonwealth for the use and benefit of W. H. Taylor against L. A. Morris and the Federal Union Surety Company for $10,000 damages, went to trial Saturday and was given to the jury at 11:30 yesterday. Plaintiff alleged that he was assaulted by Morris at the L. & N. depot, while the latter was a member of the local police force and that the assault was unprovoked.

Died for His Son.

T. Elliot Chafin's body, badly mutilated by four trains, was found near Jeffersonville, explaining his continued absence from his family in Louisville. In looking for his absent son he himself became lost and wandered to his death.

Death of Child.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hayes, East Fourth street, died Saturday night. He was only one year old, and died of summer complaint. He was buried in Hopewell cemetery Sunday afternoon.

CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON

Finally Determined Upon by Both Sides of Eastern Conflict.

TRIUMPH FOR AMERICA

Events Leading up to Big Battle if Not Stopped by Peace.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Russia has finally accepted Washington as a meeting place of the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries, the Foreign Office, at the personal direction of the Emperor, having received its request for reconsideration, as the Emperor desires to give the fullest and fairest opportunity to President Roosevelt's proposal. The result is looked upon as a triumph for American diplomacy. The Gazette intimates that Russia may not balk at an indemnity, though nothing is yet known as to Japan's terms. The operations in Manchuria appear to be leading up to a big engagement.

Reports from the Japanese armies in Manchuria state that steady advances are being made. Gen. Nisichenko has occupied Liao Yang Wopeng, the Russians fleeing in disorder. The Russian losses are said to have been heavy.

Russia and Japan have each decided tentatively to appoint three plenipotentiaries to the Washington peace conference. It is understood that M. Neldorff has accepted the chairmanship of the Russian delegation. If Marquis Ito is unable to accept it is believed that Field Marshal Yamagata will be designated as the ranking Japanese plenipotentiary. It is expected that the conference will open about the middle of August. It is expected that the advisability of a limited truce and that this suggestion will be accepted.

BELL'S ADDITION

Increased by 13 Acres More of Lots.

John H. Bell, Jr., has bought 13 acres of ground situated between his recent purchase and G. B. Underwood's on south Virginia Street, and added it to his contemplated addition to the South side. He now has one of the finest residence properties near the city and will plat it and put 93 fine lots on the market. The property was bought from the Knight estate and it is the track considered last spring for a new ball park. It lies just outside the city limits. The price was private.

PADUCAH'S COW LAW.
New Ordinance Went Into Effect Last Week.

The new anti-cow law went into effect in Paducah Saturday and the News-Democrat of Sunday contained this ringing editorial:

"By the publication today of the ordinance prohibiting cows from running at large on the streets of Paducah, the last step is taken in the enactment of that measure into law. Saturday it was signed by His Honor, David A. Yeiser.

The Reindeer est Mort.
La Reine est Mort.
The end of the long sovereignty of Queen Cow is accomplished and Paducah is no more a village. It is a city.

Now:
Down with the Fences!
Sow grass!
Plant flowers!

There is no more excuse for untidiness.

The cow law will be enforced. Never have a fear of that. It has public opinion back of it and a law with that force behind it is always enforced.

When another June is come, there should not be a fenced-in yard in Paducah. There should not be one bare lawn. There should not be a lawn without its flower bed. There should not be a home without its pretty shrubbery. These things are cheap. They are vital.

A beautiful home means a beautiful family.

There is no greater influence for good than a well-kept lawn and flower garden, however small they may be. There is practically no outlet required in money and the care of these things should be a delightful recreation.

Down with the ugly fences.
Let there be flowers.
Let there be grass."

Trahan, the pharmacist, and asked him to give me a thorough trial. I had suffered for a long time with a heavy pain across the small of my back and there followed a weakness of the kidneys which was especially at night. BABY TIMBER WOLVES

FIERCE FATHER SOMETIMES DE-VOURS HIS INFANTS.

Visit to Zoological Garden — Baby
Wolves in an Upper Berth — Medicine Dropped and Nursing Bottle.

I was standing in front of the wolf den in a big zoological garden, when the sharp voice of a keeper arrested my attention:

"Look out there, sir! That big timber wolf in the last cage is a devil; if you put your hand within reach, he'll have your fingers off before you know it. He killed and ate two of his own cubs last night. I saw him do it. He went in the next cage stuck a paw through the bars, that fellow chewed it off. That is the father of those cubs you've come for, and I guess they're all wolf; that is all that's left of them."

"All that's left of them," proved to be four; their amiable father had devoured two before he was removed. We went round to look at the babies, and found them lying all together in a nest in a corner of the cage. "Just look at them," said the keeper. "Their mother is an after-birth creature, but not nearly so formidable as her mate, watched us anxiously as we looked her youngsters over. Then I went to attend to some other matters, and when I returned, the little wolves were all together in a box covered with wire netting and ready for their long railroad journey to my home in New Hampshire. Of course, the infants would be sent to me immediately on the first thing to do was to get a supply of milk, with the necessary "dropper" and baby's bottle.

I was going by way of Boston, and my train started from the Grand Central in New York, at 1 p. m. I reached Fort Lee, New Jersey, at 10:45, too late to get anything but an upper berth, and started out on the platform. The watchful ticket puncher threw a glance at his eye at the big box containing my wolves, and the netting, and then looked underneath, and never suspected livestock. The size of the box, however, held his attention, and he remarked, rather severely: "You'll have to put that in your berth; there's no room for a box of that size in the lower berth." I explained to him that the box was to be put on the train, just as it passed out of the station. The porter was busy making up a berth, so I set my box down and waited. Waiting with me was a good-natured looking fellow with whom I exchanged a few words, and who happened to have the berth below my own. Presently the little captives, getting hungry, no doubt, began to scratch on the side of their box.

"Hello!" said the man. "What have you got there?"

"Hush!" I answered, putting my fingers to my lips. "Tomato plants."

"Ah! I thought so fast it must be," he replied. "Well, as I have the berth below yours, I hope they won't grow through the side of the box before morning."

When the porter came, I let him take my bag and a few other traps. The box I handled myself, and swung it up into the berth, following fast as I could, and keeping up a good deal of conversation with the porter, to distract his mind from the box, the wolf puppies scrambled out, and fairly besieged me, whining with all their might. In their eagerness for food, two of them scrambled to the very edge of the box, without, however, looking down to pleasure me. The instant I took the cover from the box, the wolf puppies

The Weather.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—Generally fair and not so warm Tuesday.

Pirates attacked a village on the coast of Siberia and killed 150 natives.

Rear Admiral Sigsbee's squadron sailed from New York Sunday for Cherbourg, France, to bring the body of Paul Jones to this country.

The walls of the new L. & N. depot are about ready for the upper joists of the second story of the office department of the building.

Eminent II, a Jersey bull, sold at T. S. Cooper's sale, Allenstown, Pa., to Geo. E. Pear, Rochester, N. Y., for $10,000. This is the record price for Jersey cattle.

Gen. Maximo Gomez, the Washington of Cuba, is dead at Havana and the Spanish Club is joining with the Cuban government in mourning the death of the brave old patriot, who declined the presidency.

A "rough house" was started on a negro excursion train near Griffin, Ga., and when the smoke of pistol shot had cleared away eleven negroes were dead in the car.

The little flurry between France and Germany over the Morocco question will not cause trouble. Explanations have been made and France has received Germany's assurance that no offense was intended by the proposed plan of an international conference.

John P. Fults, who was elected county attorney of Jefferson county in the Republican landslide of 1894, was drowned in British Columbia last week by the upsetting of a canoe. Six other men were drowned. Fults went to Alaska in 1898.

The examining trial of James and Alex Hargis and Full French, before magistrate Allen, in Jackson, for alleged complicity in the Marcuson murder, was a farce. After allowing the defendants to personally question Mrs. Marcuson for two days, their interrogations at times being taunting, the magistrate dismissed the charges. County Attorney Blanton told Allen that the proceedings were a farce and left the court room, telling the magistrate to take his court and go to the devil.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the disordered portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by medical remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for catalog free.

POLICE NEWS.

Three Parties Were Fined for Being Drunk.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 17.—Dr. Joe Shewell, a prominent physician of Cumpus Mill, Stewart County, has created a sensation by his disappearance. He left home about two weeks ago and had never been heard from. He left telling his wife that he was going to Dawson Springs, but she received a letter from him several days afterward saying that he was going to leave the country, and maybe the United States. He told her he had made arrangements for her and his child to be cared for.

Upon investigation it was found that he had placed $5,000 to her credit in a bank at Dover. He was worth between $25,000 and $30,000, and is supposed to have that amount with him, less the money left his wife and child. He had evidently been preparing for his departure, as he had disposed of all his real estate and made other arrangements.

REVENUE AGENT

Nosing Into Records to Cause Taxpayers Trouble.

B. F. Chambers, revenue agent representing Frank A. Lucas, of Paducah, was here last week inspecting mortgage records and gathering data for suits against the owners of all notes and mortgages over $300 not listed for taxation for the last five years. Suits will be filed against a large number of taxpayers for alleged back taxes.

The D. A. R. chapter made a nice little fund by their entertainment at Mrs. Dietrich's Friday afternoon and evening. Mrs. J. T. Wall as palmist and Mrs. Margaret Wormald as fortune-teller added to the fun as well as the funds. Brick ice cream in national colors and cake were served.

STARTLING FIGURES.

Foreign Immigration an Object Lesson to the South.

The following picture is from a recent editorial in the Memphis Commercial Appeal, and while written from a different standpoint and for a different purpose than the one to which we will apply it, still it portrays conditions that should receive the most earnest thought of every loyal American citizen, wherever he may reside; but more especially do we commend it, with the lessons logically deducible therefrom, to the press and the people of the south:

"This New North seems to have no regard for the law, for good government, for honest elections, for the rule of the people. Democracy has yielded to the boss. One hundred thousand illegal voters are admitted by the republican machine in Philadelphia. The mob is cook of the walk in Chicago. The thieves are lords of the ascendant in Pittsburgh. Every citizen in Rhode Island practically is for sale. New Jersey is glorious in her corporate rotteness. New York is the rendezvous for official blackmail and covetous plunder. And so it goes. The New North seems to be without virtues, without honesty and without any recognition whatever of the elemental principles of popular government."

We assume the entire correctness of this picture and give it as our strongest conviction that this deplorable state of affairs could exist in this country from only one cause, and that the lowering of our standard of citizenship through the indiscriminate admission of immigrants. Recent exposures of a secret agent of our government, sent to Europe for the purpose of investigating the character of the immigrants coming to this country, a Mr. Braun, show that we are receiving with the knowledge and connivance of foreign governments, their pauper and criminal classes.

This trusted agent of the government makes this as an official report to the president, and he further says that it has been and is now the practice of some of these governments to make it a condition with some criminals that they will be released if they will go to the United States. This agent also found an institution near Budapest from which pauper children were taken and placed under fictitious parents to be brought to this country at so much a head.

A still further fraud exists in the issuance of counterfeit naturalization papers, so that thousands come into the cities of the north and at once enter under the control of political wage bosses, who vote them in "job lots" for a money price. Does anyone wonder that corruption runs riot in these cities?

These census figures give the total number of immigrants that have come into this country up to the 1st of January in round numbers to be 23,000,000, or one-half of the present population of the northern, eastern and western states. In some of these the foreign born exceeds the native born population by from 200 to 400 per cent.

This has become so great a menace to the entire north east and west that in consequence a cry has arisen from all portions of these sections that "the south is not getting her share of these valuable accession to our American population," and some of our southern friends have taken the bait, hook and all, and now the south is confronted with a menace from which they have hitherto been freed, and that through the agency of the much maligned negro. Let us see how we have fared under this discriminating (?) policy that has given the north all these immigrants and which the presence of the negro has kept out of the south.

Taking the census records for the twenty years ending with the last one or from 1880 to 1900, the balance of the country increased in agriculture 65 per cent, while the south increased in the same period 72 per cent. Manufactures increased in the rest of the country outside the south during this period 242 per cent, while the south increased 348 per cent. The increase in value of manufactured products during this period for the balance of the nation was 135 per cent, and for the south it was 219 per cent. By way of explanation of these startling figures the south has kept her population almost entirely intact, there being twice as many foreign born citizens in the state of Illinois as in the entire fourteen southern states combined.

What a tribute is this to the native American blood that flows so fully in the veins of the people of the south? What incentive exists in these figures to keep the population of the south free from the taint that is inevitable from the reception of indiscriminate classes of foreigners? The people of the south have made the proudest record youchased to any in the world since the close of the civil war, and now as we stand on the threshold of greater things are we to have that proud record stained by admitting among us the "scum of Europe?"

This is the fate in store for us if our southern ports are opened to the reception of immigrants, as many are proposing. The north, aided and abetted by the commissioners of immigration, is very solicitous to have the south receive the vandal hordes coming to our shores, but we must not permit it; not only must our own loved land of the south be kept for our children as pure as we can have it, but a cry should be heard from all over the south that will stay this tide of immigration that is demoralizing the north.

Surely the United States will not be content to become a mere penal colony for Europe. It rests largely on the south to save not only her own section from this menace and damning blight, but that of the rest of the country as well. No higher duty rests upon the south than the protection of her population, and we shall never be silent until this is done.—Chattanooga Tradesman.

Old Fiddlers.

The people or Pembroke will be given a rare treat again in the way of an Old Fiddler's Contest at the open house Friday night, June 30. The best talent in Kentucky and Tennessee is being invited and it is expected to make the best held in Southern Kentucky. All old fiddlers (and young ones too), are most earnestly solicited to be present, whether personally invited or not. There will be a free for all contest, open to all alike. An excellent program list is being prepared, so the game will be worth the candle. Next week will appear the names of many of the contestants. Popular prices will be charged. Net proceeds will go to the Library fund. The hearty co-operation of all is earnestly solicited.

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes Geo. W. Hoffman, of Harper, Wash., "I had been battling with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I cured my disease, by the use of Electric Bitters. I unhesitatingly recommend them to all and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a good aid to me. So far I have never had a bad case of mind. So far under guarantee to do the same for you by R. C. Hardwick, druggist, at 50¢ a bottle. Try them today."

Furious Fighting.

It was freely predicted in Chicago last night that the teamsters' strike would be ended this week. Efforts will be made to have the Teamsters' Joint Council declare off the strike.

It has become so great a menace to the entire north east and west that in consequence a cry has arisen from all portions of these sections that "the south is not getting her share of these valuable accession to our American population," and some of our southern friends have taken the bait, hook and all, and now the south is confronted with a menace from which they have hitherto been freed, and that through the agency of the much maligned negro. Let us see how we have fared under this discriminating (?) policy that has given the north all these immigrants and which the presence of the negro has kept out of the south.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

George Hackenschmidt, known as the "Russian Lion," champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler of the other night by defeating Tom Jenkins in two straight falls at Madison Square Garden in New York city. The Russian completely outwitted the American, and in no stage of the contest appeared at all in peril.

Jenkins, having assumed the aggressive, forced the foreigner into a head spin, and then into a strangle hold.

Once, early in the first bout, Jenkins had a look-in. It will take another Youssouf or Hall Allad to throw this powerful Russian.

The two Turks named—one now dead, and the other out of the wrestling game—could probably be beaten by a good American.

It is far from certain that either of them would have had easy game with him.

Hackenschmidt combines the ability of a featherweight on his feet with the Herculean strength which is his.

The most remarkable neck appendage

he has is a short, thick, strong neck.

He is not a man to be beaten.

GOT THE BANNERS.

Christian County Outplayed All of 'Em, Said Judges.

The Hopkinsville delegation of participants in the old fiddlers' contest at the Masonic theater, Louisville, two nights during the Confederate Reunion, returned home Friday night. Prizes were offered only in the various contests scheduled to take place between Indians and Kentucky performers and as the Hoosier fiddlers were not much in evidence, there were no contests between the States, and therefore, no prizes were awarded. There were nine counties of Kentucky represented during the entertainment and Christian county got the decision each night on playing in concert, also in quartet, duet and individual playing. Hart county came second and Scott third. Christian county was represented by T. E. Bartley, John M. Morris and W. F. Randle, also Tobe Morris, (with guitar), all of Hopkinsville, and Dr. G. W. Lackey of Pembroke, I. H. Wicks, of Fruit Hill, and J. N. Sisk, of White Plains,
